NO DUEL is complete unless one of the combatants is wounded in the coat.

* * *

FATHER BRADLEY will retain possession of Asbury Park; wherefore let us pray.

* * *

MARY OF TECK may be mentioned as a perpetual candidate for queen of England.

* * *

DR. PARKHURST proposes a raid on tobacco, and to begin with will learn to smoke and chew.

* * *

THE MILLIONS of the millionaires are never orphaned. The families, like the dollars, increase and multiply.

* * *

THERE HAVE BEEN many funerals to General Grant. Perhaps some day the old hero will get a monument.

* * *

THEY SAY the woman's department of the world's fair is quarreling itself to death and greatly enjoying the exercises.

* * *

APPORTIONMENT—A scheme to give your party more than belongs to it, taking the same from the party of the opposition.

* * *

THE VERDICT in the case of Ravachol indicates a necessity for a little anarchy on the part of the people against the anarchists.

* * *

IF FATHER HOLMAN were to run for president his motto would be, "Put nothing in the pot," and therefore he wouldn't run.

* * *

NO CONVENTION is so harmonious as the one that is without hope in the election. Nothing to get, nothing to quarrel over.

* * *

NEW YORK is the finest summer resort in the world. How sweet it is to think now much those people who go to Europe lose.

* * *

MRS. WOODHULL thinks the fates will make her the ruler of this nation in 1892. Here is your dark horse of another pattern.

* * *

A MORMON ELDER has tried to escape the law against bigamy by marrying twins; but the old question arises, which is the twin?

* * *

IT IS TOO LATE for Mr. Blaine to be a candidate now. He doesn't want the honor, and if he did his acceptance of it would be unfairness that his party would not forgive.

OUR MAN IN PARIS.

NOT TO MENTION his wealth and the democratic simplicity of his name, T. Jefferson Coolidge is "the handsomest man in Boston." There is a large place for flies on the top of his head, but there are no flies there. He was converted to protection by Grover's tariff message, and he is prominent in both business and social circles. We really don't see how the president could have found a better man for the large vacancy created by Whitelaw Reid's retirement from Paris.

THE WRONG APPLICATION.

CASEY—"Begorra, Harty! yez looks like a mashtiff-dog gone clane chrazy."
HARTY—"It wor this way, Jimmy. Oi bought some *mus*tash-raiser an' some dye t' pit on it when it kem out, an' Oi'm th' fool's own av Oi didn't pit th' dye on foorst an' kill th' roots!"

THE PARTY OF CRIME.

WHEN POLITICS dictates that Bunco-thief O'Brien, sentenced to state-prison for stealing ten thousand dollars, shall be permitted to escape because of his "pull," we have come to something worse than the brass and infamy of Tweed. But is it worse than the stealing of the senate, the whitewashing of Maynard, the seating of Rockwell? Is it not true that the state and the country must put down Tammany hall or Tammany hall will put down their legal justice and their ballot-box?

THE SUGGESTIVE HOSIERY.

THE WOMEN KICKERS are in high favor. On two occasions in this town women have been arrested for sidewalk-kicking; recently two titled women of London did a public skirt-dance for charity to tumultuous applause; and the kicking of the drawing-room, after the manner of Carmencita, has come to be more or less respected in more or less polite society. Probably it is art. We trust it will not go so far that gentlemen will have their hats kicked off in the streets, because they really must have something to pull over their eyes.

DAVID, SILVER, AND VICTORIA.

THE SILVER MEN of Colorado are very much in earnest. The Denver News prints the names of eleven thousand of them who are pledged to support no man opposed to free coinage. Their plan is to run some presidential candidate in order to throw the election of a president into the house of representatives. The friends of Hill say he is by no means out of the fight, and we know that he is friendly to silver. When one considers this thing and incidentally the ambition of Victoria C. Woodhull, the condition for 1892 is exasperatingly chimerical.

FOUR FOOLS.

THE SEVERAL DUELISTS—the finest dispensers of American-English idiocy yet known—succeeded in killing William Astor without firing a shot. Had they trained their toy-pistols against him he would have been alive today. Worrying him with their childish blubber about what they call honor, disgracing his name with their several feeble publications, and borrowing his daughter's garments as the means to their own notoriety, they shamed him out of the world. They ought to be decked with tar and feathers and kicked into their contemptible little graves.

THE GENTLENESS OF MURDER.

"THIS LITTLE WOMAN," pleaded Counselor Howe, and all the reporters pleaded, "This pretty little woman." It is true that all women who do wrong are little and pretty, and whatsoever woman wants to reach that excellence has only to commit a crime—the worse the crime the more pathetic the "pretty" and the "little." But the man who is killed is just as much killed as if the perpetrator of the deed were a large, coarse man, and one would think that the punishment ought to be as great in one case as the other. Crime knows no sex, but justice is always on the lookout for it.

SWING YOUR HAT FOR HARRISON.

IT IS WORTH thinking of that while the Republican convention of this state did not care to mention Harrison for a re-election it did not care to mention or present the claims to the chief office of anybody else. And so of other state conventions, all of which were by a large majority for Harrison. Republican sentiment the country through has settled upon this man as the best man to head the national ticket. No other man is talked of beyond the state to which the candidate may belong. It is natural and proper that other men should seek the place, and it is inevitable that office-giving should displease ten where it gratifies one; but the man for the party at large is undoubtedly Harrison, and he has fairly won the indorsement of a re-election.

WARNER MILLER is skipping around like one who fears the office is seeking the man and he is the man.

* * *

FIRST THOUGHT of a Paris jury—"If the accused is an anarchist it is obvious that there must be extenuating circumstances."

* * *

NOBODY QUESTIONS the statement of Governor Tillman of South Carolina that he would rather go to hell with his friends than to heaven with his enemies, and why doesn't he start?

* * *

WILLIAM ASTOR started on his last and longest journey without a cent in his slight clothing. How impossible equality is this side of the grave, and how unavoidable it is when you get there.

* * *

IN HIS "Automatic Wife" W. H. Ballou tells some of his characteristically interesting lies, and succeeds admirably in depicting various impossible results of a philosophy obviously afflicted with delirium tremens. We know of few writers more persistently absurd, and they are all dead.

THE MOST UNKINDEST CUT OF ALL.

LITTLE TOMMY (to his sister's beau)—"Say, Mr. Petitt, I'm going to be a banker when I grow up. What are you going to be when you grow up?"

READY FOR THE BALL.

"Phwell, and phwat do ye think of me, darlint?"

"Shure, ye look jist illigent, but I phwisht it wur a mask-ball!"

LET US HAVE MORE FIGHTING.

THE DUEL should be encouraged. People who contemplate duels are fools, and experience in dueling improves them even if they die. But they do not die. They rarely draw blood. They are frightened against the possibility of straight shooting, and are as afraid of killing as of getting killed. When they get through with their firearms they are relieved and affectionate, and after the requisite conviviality become fast friends, each knowing the other to be as much of a coward and a fool as he is, himself. Good-fellowship demands more duels; though, to be sure, the duel that kills both combatants is far better than the one now popular.

THE WOMAN.

MR. GLADSTONE is emphatic in his opposition to woman suffrage. And that's right. Nobody denies the right of a woman to vote, but everybody questions the propriety of it. That may be a matter of custom, and again there are male voters who have no more right to vote than so many dogs; but it is shocking to think of a woman exercising any right that custom has forbidden her through the centuries. It is her privilege to be convicted by a jury and go to prison or the scaffold quite as if she were a man; but if she acts as a juror she unsexes herself, loses her delicacy, and becomes an object of pity or contempt.

AVENGING THE INSULT.

COCOANUT MIKE (to new arrival)—"'Fore I'd be a convict!" THE NEW ARRIVAL—"'Fore I wouldn't have no tail!"

EPITAPHS.

SWEET Jane to books applied herself in youth,
And oft applied her hand to the unwise.
'Tis said the thing she loved the most was truth,
And yet you now see how the woman lies.

Fair Susan died with water on the brain;
She didn't know she suffered any pain.
When asked if codfish-balls she liked, replied:
"I've ne'er attended any." Then she died.

The doctor ran an institute,
His life was full of care;
Although he was a principal,
He hadn't much to spare.

Pat's nose was like Longfellow's poems, 'tis said,
Because it was always extensively red;
He stole some champagne and drank it so fast
That his pain was no sham when he murmured his last.

LEON MEAD.

HER FIRST UNSATISFIED DESIRE.

"PAPA," said Ellie, she with curls tumbling over her wide brown eyes, "p'ease take that 'ittle ladder and det me that moon."

MOULDED SHAPE.

RIALTO LOUNGER—"Hullo, boys! When did you get in from Oswego?"
FIRST LEADING MAN—"This morning."
RIALTO LOUNGER—"What's the matter with your legs?"
FIRST LEADING MAN—"Well, you see, the ties were too far apart for Junius and not far enough for me."

SCHWINGER—"Vot grimes does dose vellers gommit do pe bathed dere, Heinrich?"
HEINRICH—"Gott knows, put I vould rather pe hung—nicht wahr?"

REMARKABLE THOUGHTFULNESS.

Hojack—"So poor Staggers is dead."
Tomdik—"Yes; and did you hear of the wise forethought of Mrs. Staggers?"
Hojack—"What did she do?"
Tomdik—"Had him laid out in an asbestos shroud."

WHEN IN ROME DO AS ROMANS DO.

STRANGER (first day in Bowery restaurant)—"Bring me some roast pork with Worcestershire sauce, a cup of coffee without milk, and some mashed potatoes."
WAITER (to cook)—"Have the pig dressed up in black, make the bootleg in the dark, and mash the murphys."

WAITER (to stranger, next day)—"Watillyerhaveterday?"
STRANGER (with vim)—"Make the bootleg for the pig, fire off the cannons, mash Mr. Murphy's eye, and hit the waiter in the dark." (As the waiter collapses)—"Why, what's the matter with that order?"

THE OLD MARE'S GAIT

SUM FOLKS is quite perticaler about the way they go,
A-gallopin', a-trottin', or a-hitchin' sorter slow;
While sum has noshuns 'bout the style o' dockin' o' the tail,
An' others like to git thar this or next week wi'out fail,
An' others like to hurry, fur they've never larned to wait.
I'm a chap who stan's accordin' to the ole mar's gait.

She sorter ambles easy-like adown the village lane,
A-shakin' o' hur quarters wi' no tenshun on the rein;
A-browsin' an' a-nibblin' o' the weeds along the way;
A-sorter growin' wobbley, like her master growin' gray;
A-sorter easy-goin', an' no matter if it's late,
It's all the same to both o' us—it is the critter's gait.

We've got beyond the hurryin' an' scamperin' to git
Down to the wire fust o' all; for easy is the bit
That rattles round among the stubs o' one that's be'n a colt,
Who's got a creakin' in hur bones, though once she used to jolt
A takin' stride along the way—'twas 'fore we larned to wait;
But now we both are satesfied wi' jist a slowin' gait.

Hur pedergree it reaches back to Lady Thorn, a queen
Who raked the scollups off the cake a-trottin' down the green;
Hur blood was red when she was young, but now it's gittin' gray
Wi' years that come an' years that go an' years that slip away.
Fur what she's be'n an' what she's done when she was 'counted great,
She's jist a right to jog along accordin' to hur gait.

She used to yank the purses at the county fairs when she
Was limber in hur moshuns, when hur j'ints they was free.
She used to fool the smarties wi' the sleepy look she wore,
But she trotted to the finish an' she always led the score.
O' course that was afore she larned like me to rest and wait,
An' long afore she settled to this easy-goin' gait.

She's twenty-one this summer, an' she's good fur thirty-six.
She nibbles in the clover, an' hur feed I grind an' mix
Jist like you would a pusson's who is toothless, old and gray—
Fur, to tell you fact, hur grinders, like my own, have passed away.
Thar, take hur as she's standin', I love hur though she's late,
Fur we're growin' ole together an' I fashion to hur gait.

H. S. KELLER.

A MUNDANE HABIT.

St. Peter—"You'll find your mansion one block down to the right."

Spirit—"Can't you fix it so I can live a little way out of heaven and come in every day? On earth I was a New York man who lived in New Jersey."

A GREAT LOVE.

CECIL—"No, Weggy; you must not tempt me—weally you must not. I pwomised her I would smoke but three cigawettes a day."

REGINALD—"Oh, Cecil, deah boy! how you must love her!"

TOO LONG BURIED.

Bagley—"You want your body cremated? What ever put that idea into your head?"

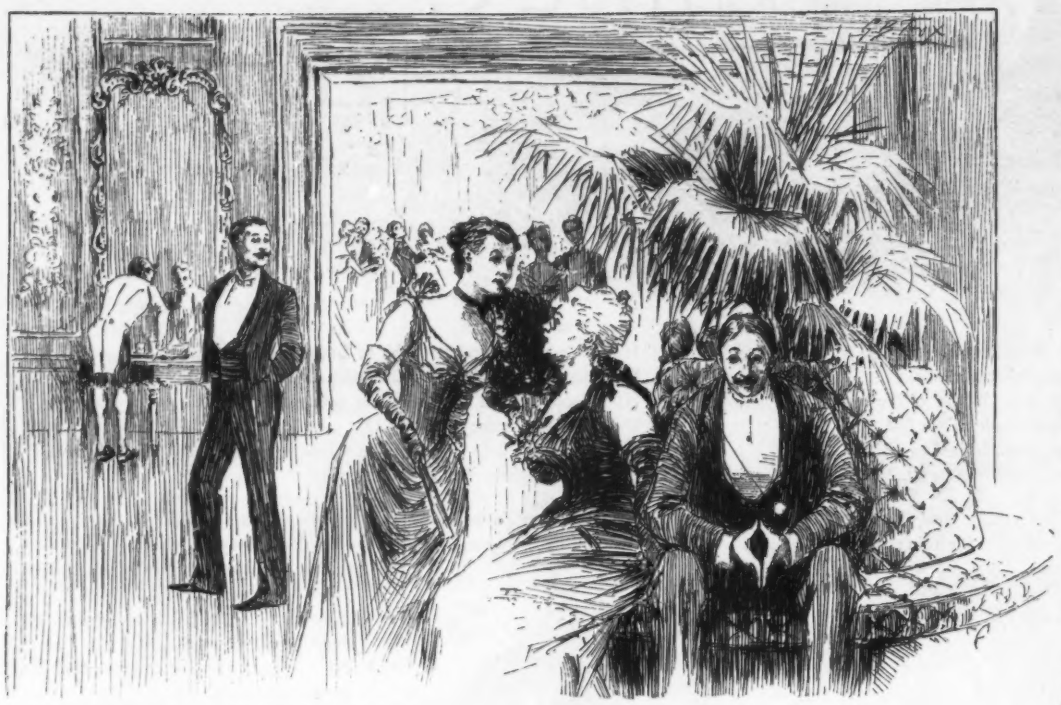
Bailey—"I live in Hoboken and I have been buried long enough."

MAGIC MADE EASY.

FRANCELLO ANGELLO (magician)—"Presto, change! You see, I take a watch from this gentleman's mouth. Thanks."

MR. HAYSEED—"!!!!!"

MR. HAYSEED (ten minutes later)—"Say, young feller, hurry up an' give me somethin' to make me sick. I'm full o' gold watches an' I want tew get at 'em."



HOW HE REGAINED HIS PARTNER.

MRS. UPPONTOP—"Pardon me, sir." (In an undertone.) "Clarisse, I wish you would refrain from accepting attentions from that man. Thomas says he runs a drill for a living."

COUSIN TOM—"I forgot to add, auntie, that he's an instructor at West Point." (And in the meantime the lieutenant had flown.)

UNANSWERABLE ARGUMENT.

"THAT was an excellent sermon Dr. Prosy gave us this morning on the immensity of the universe."

"Do you think the doctor is right?"

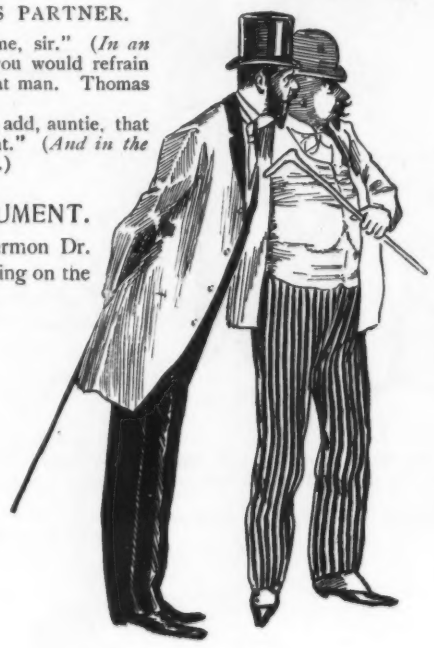
"Most assuredly."

"Then, why in thunder do they make these hall-bedrooms so small?"

HARD TO BELIEVE.

Keedick (describing a giant he had seen)—"He stood seven feet in his stockings."

Mrs. Keedick—"Now you might just as well tell me he had three heads in his hat."



TWIGGLE—"Do you see that fellow with the picture? That's Smithers, the artist. I suppose that's some great work of his."

A REVELATION.

Just then a gale of wind struck Smithers and nearly wrenched the "great work" out of his hands.

IT'S BUSINESS.

"IT WASN'T square. He kicked over the ladder on which he climbed."

"That's customary. He doesn't want to go down again."

ONE BELOW PAR.

Bloobumper—"I always laugh when I hear Cubbage trying to sing 'Old Hundred.'"

Spatts—"Why?'

Bloobumper—"He's never able to get any higher than 'Ninety-and-nine.'"

RELIABLE INFORMATION.

"LIEUTENANT TOTTEN says the world is coming to an end soon."

"Who's Lieutenant Totten?"

"He's the—er—er—why, he's the fellow who says the world is coming to an end."

HER FACE WAS HER MISFORTUNE.

LAWYER—"I feel positive, madam, that we can settle this matter without the slightest publicity—say about seventy-five thousand and ten thousand a year alimony."

THE SWEET VOICE—"Oh, sir, you have eased my mind to such an extent—that"——

LAWYER—"But of course, madam, there may be difficulties—er—to be overcome, and—er—perhaps you had—better take your case to my friends, Howle & Hubbub."

DIDN'T SHOW UP.

STRAWBER—"Terrible thing about Spindle, wasn't it? The poor fellow didn't turn up at his own wedding."

MRS. STRAWBER—"Heavens! What was the matter?"

STRAWBER—"He was fool enough to put off the ushers' dinner until the night before the wedding-day."

TOO MUCH.

Spinks—"Goodno's pretty typewriter has left him. What was the matter?"

Binks—"She caught him kissing his wife."

THE ONLY WAY TO PREVENT IT.

Bagley—"Does your wife always have the last word?"

Bailey—"No; not always."

Bagley—"How do you manage it?"

Bailey—"Easily enough. I'm not married."

A BENEDICT.

Mrs. Spinks—"Is your friend Finks a married man?"

Mr. Spinks—"I guess so. He fastens his suspenders with a hairpin instead of a nail."

AN INCONVENIENT LUXURY.

MR. CALHOUN—"Whadjer luff yo' pipe hang down laik dat fer?"

MR. CLAY—"De stem 's a triffle short, en when I gits it 'tween mah teef I done burns mah lips agin d' bowl."

SENTENCES PASSED BY THE JUDGE.

THE genuine ideal is as sexless as a ray of white light.

Disaster is as often escaped through weakness as through strength.

It must have been a masculine power that formed woman's heart for forgiveness.

In greater need of an all-seeing eye than the proverbial falling sparrow stands the "white blackbird."

Man is a remnant composed principally of sentiments and instincts left over from the last state of existence.

Sex is like electric and magnetic agents—one in its nature and in reality made effective by a divided double current and corresponding poles.

Only a man's—or shall we say a woman's—philosophy will enable her to bear the burden of humanity which her philosophy has imposed upon her.

If one to whom love is forbidden be too weak to love she will probably escape temptation and consequent disaster. If she be strong enough to love she may escape disaster, but not temptation.

Though dishonesty may seem to flourish like the bay-tree while virtue standeth like a forbidding thorny hedge, it lieth plain to all that the shade of the one is obnoxious and its branches without fruit, while the pricks of the other do no hurt unless struck against.

KATHRINE GROSJEAN.

AN UNFORTUNATE EDICT.

MRS. CLOONEY—"It's th' shmall bit yure man sames t' be injiyin' th' avenin', Mrs. O'Teague."

MRS. O'TEAGUE—"It's revinge Oi'm havin', Mrs. Clooney. He wor afther objictin' till me dichollytee cor-rdage, an' Oi med him lind me th' loan av his galluses fer t' shatishfy his dacency."

"Do you know General Debility, major?"

"Yes; General Debility and I have been enemies for years."

"Enemies, major? Why, I thought he was such a popular man! They're always talking about him in the papers—always prescribing remedies to do him good."

ASKING FOR INFORMATION.

"BROWNING, dear," said Mrs. Emerson of Boston to her husband, "what is a cutaneous pastime?"

"A cutaneous pastime, love? I never heard of such a thing."

"Well, I heard two men on the street-car talking and one of them spoke of a skin game."

NOT A GENUINE ANARCHIST.

IN A SECRET anarchist meeting.

Inner guard (to head centre)—"You ordered beer for every one in the room?"

Head centre—"Yes."

Inner guard—"Well, there's a little red-headed man over in the corner who says he never drinks beer."

Head centre—"Confusion! we are discovered."

SARTOR RE-SARTUS.

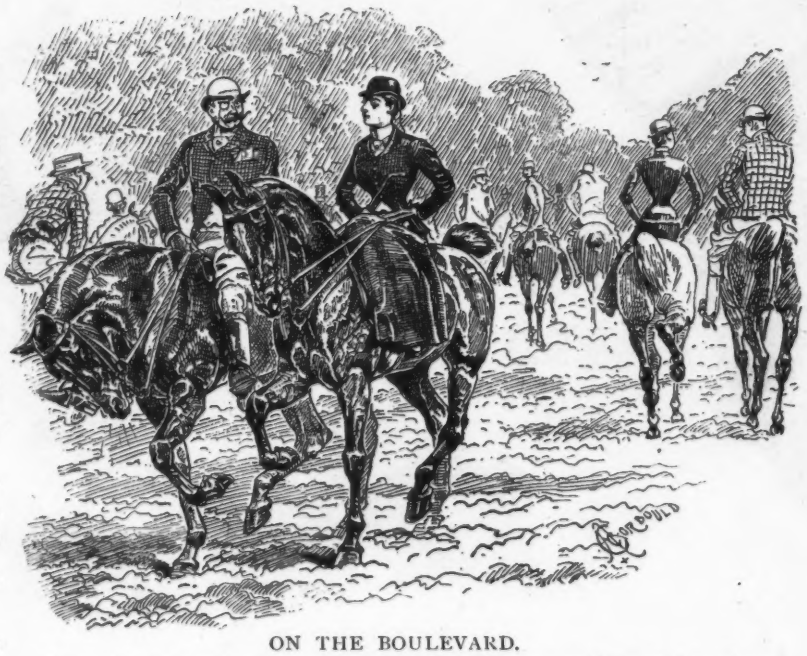
"MAMMA," said the agnostic little Jane as she was having her frock fitted, "did people used to wear fig-leaves?"

"Yes," replied her mother; "leaves fastened together with thorns."

"Thorns?" incredulously. "Um! why didn't they use pins?"

"Pins weren't invented then. They didn't have any."

"Then," said Jane the invincible, "why didn't they use the —— sewing-machine?"



ON THE BOULEVARD.

SHE—"I agree with you, general—a girl should know something of the technical terms used with regard to horses. I've been studying under my brother for some time now, so can discuss in recognized terms on the subject. "I shall not open the door, Harvardson," said the Boston wife at two o'clock a. m., "until I have satisfactory evidence that you have not been spending the evening in riotous conviviality." "Your precaution, my dear," replied the Boston husband, who stood shivering on the outside, "is natural but unnecessary. I have been in attendance at an unusually interesting session of the Zoroaster club." With clear, distinct enunciation he then repeated rapidly this passage from Emerson's essay on Plato: "Seashore, sea seen from the shore, shore seen from the sea." EXCURSION TICKETS TO THE PHILADELPHIA HORSE SHOW via PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD.

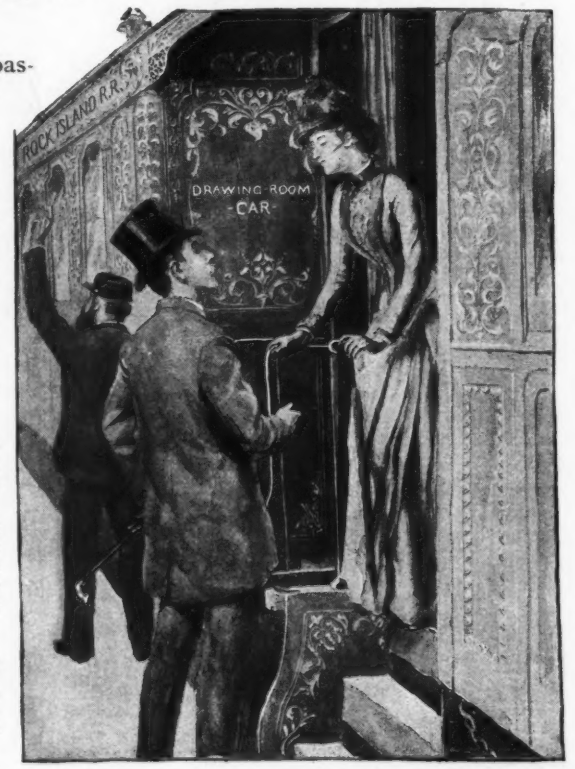
The Philadelphia Horse Show Association will hold its first open-air exhibition at Wissahickon Heights Station, Philadelphia, on May 30th, 31st, June 1st and 2d, 1892. This organization is composed of the leading citizens of Philadelphia and vicinity, and the names of the officers and directors, all of whom are closely identified with all movements tending to improve the breeding of fine stock, give ample guarantee of success in every particular. The prize list, which amounts to fifteen thousand dollars, includes premiums for thoroughbreds, trotters, roadsters, Normans, hackneys, coaching, stallions, horses in harness, cobs, ponies, saddle horses, hunters, brood mares, as well as for tandems, four-in-hands, municipal, police and fire horses. Entries are being made from all portions of the country, and the indications foreshadow the best and most comprehensive show of horse-flesh ever seen in this country. It will be patronized by the representatives of the best society of New York, Philadelphia and other eastern cities. The grounds, which are located immediately on the Germantown and Chestnut Hill branch of the Pennsylvania Railroad, eleven miles from Broad-street station, are ample for all the purposes of the show, and the accommodations for visitors are complete. For the benefit of visitors the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will sell excursion tickets to Wissahickon Heights Station, including coupon of admission, from New York at $4.70, and at proportionate rates from other stations. The tickets will be sold May 28th, 29th, 30th, June 1st and 2d, valid for return until June 6th, 1892. The principal New York trains of the Pennsylvania Railroad connect at Germantown Junction for Wissahickon Heights. For the better accommodation of exhibitors a special train composed of eight or ten palace stock-cars will be run from New York direct to the grounds on May 29th.

"Colorado in One Night."

Another new train with all the luxurious appointments common to the GREAT ROCK ISLAND'S equipment has been added to the Colorado service. The "Rocky Mountain Limited," between Chicago, Denver, Pueblo, Colorado Springs, and Manitou, leaves Chicago at 10.45 every morning, immediately after the arrival of all fast trains from the East. Though a limited train, there is no extra fare. It reaches Denver the next afternoon—earlier than any other route.

There is no change of sleepers; passengers for Pueblo and Colorado Springs are not disturbed.

This train is specially designed for Summer Traffic, and consists of one baggage car, two sleepers, and one of our far-famed Dining Cars. It is lighted by Gas, and in winter heated by steam from the engine. In fact, nothing is lacking conducive to comfort. It is as if you were in your own drawing-room.



Its counterpart leaves Denver daily at 9 A. M., returning over the same route, via Phillipsbury, Beatrice, Lincoln, Omaha, Des Moines, and Davenport, arriving at Chicago next day at 4.15 P. M.

The "Big Five" will continue as usual, leaving Chicago at 10 P. M. daily, arriving at Denver, Colorado Springs, and Pueblo the second morning, being out but one day. No. 11 will leave as heretofore at 6 P. M., by way of Kansas City, and reach Denver at the same hour as the "Big Five."

By these additions the Colorado service of the Great Rock Island affords two "Flyers" daily each way. "TAKE THE ROCK ISLAND."

A FIRM SELLING THIRTY-THREE MILLION POUNDS ANNUALLY.

Only of late years the use of chocolate as a beverage has been introduced in America. This, however, to a small extent only; but if the majority of the public would penetrate the fact that using chocolate is as beneficial to the health as tea and coffee are injurious how many dyspepsia sufferers would be relieved? The most popular chocolate all over the universe is unquestionably Chocolat Menier. To form an idea of the importance of this immensely wealthy firm it must be said that huge territories, covered by cocoa plantations and railroads, are their own, as well as sugar refineries and a fleet of steamers, etc. They claim and deserve the title of—largest factory in the world.

ARE YOU A SMOKER?

READ THIS.

CORROCCO is the extract of a plant imported from South and Central America. This extract is mixed with aromatics to flavor and sweeten, and manufactured into tablets, delightful and refreshing. Corrocco is for the purpose of completely relieving and counteracting all the unpleasant and injurious effects of tobacco. A drop of nicotine will kill a cat. A drop of nicotine mixed with a drop of Corrocco is harmless. Few smokers realize how many of their nervous and digestive disorders are the result of tobacco; when they do realize it they "swear off." If Corrocco Tablets are used as a regular treatment, the pleasure of smoking is doubled, because all its unpleasant effects—such as nervousness, sleeplessness, smoker's heart, etc., are completely counteracted and the system thoroughly cleansed of the nicotine. When through smoking for the day, a single tablet costing less than one cent, dissolved on the tongue, will completely remove every vestige of tobacco and its effects, and you will feel like a new man in the morning.

Send us a two-cent stamp and we will send you a little book all about cigars, pipes, how to color, etc., and if your nearest cigar-dealer or club does not keep Corrocco Tablets, send 25c. for a sample box by mail. Recommended by highest medical authority.
